Leave Microsoft Alone! Microsoft has done nothing but consistently produce a wonderful product and sell it at an affordable price. That is by its nature, competitive. That they GAVE AWAY an internet browser does not damage consumers--we now get for free what we once had to pay for. They offer huge discounts on their operating system licenses to retailers that only sell the Microsoft OS. Where I come from this is simply called GOOD MARKETING! This lawsuit was drummed up by "competitors" that want to cripple Microsoft since they are unable to compete on their own.

Sincerely,
Chris McKenzie
